Burton Klein, PE, spent 20 years with the National Fire Protection Association as its chief healthcare fire protection engineer. He edited the first 5 editions of the Health Care Facilities Handbook (on NFPA 99). He is the author of the ASHE Fire, Electrical & Life Safety Compendium, and co-author of NFPA book Fire & Life Safety in Healthcare Facilities. Since 1998, he has been president of his own company, Burton Klein Associates, specializing in health care fire & electrical safety issues. He is a member of the NFPA Technical Comm. on Electrical Systems (NFPA 99). Prior to NFPA, he was director of the Medical Engineering Dept. at Tufts-New England Medical Center in Boston, MA.

Mayer Zimmerman, MS, spent 36 years with the federal government as a Life Safety Code Specialist, acting as the Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) over life safety issues involving all types of health care facilities for the Center for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS). He represented CMS for more than 30 years on the NFPA T/C on Health Care Occupancies (NFPA 101) and the T/CC on Health Care Facilities (NFPA 99). He served as a CMS instructor in every LSC and NFPA 99 class CMS has held. He is a member of NFPA and the Society of Fire Protection Engineers. In August 2008, he started his own company specializing in health care life safety issues. He remains a member of the NFPA 99 Technical Correlating Committee as an independent expert.

Do you know what CMS expects of ambulatory surgical centers regarding Life Safety Code requirements? What surveyors for CMS, AAAHC, AAAASF expect? Why accreditation is really needed? What the LSC requires of ASCs and ESRDs if free-standing or if located in a commercial building?

Do you know which Type or Types of essential electrical system listed in NFPA 99 must be installed in ASCs? How long CMS or NFPA 99 require ASCs and ESRDs emergency power to function? Whether or how a UPS can function as an alternate power supply?

If you don't know the answers to these questions & other questions, then you need to attend this Conference on Life Safety & Emergency Power for ASCs being held in Carle Place, NY to find out the answers, and ask other questions!!
